COMMITTEE MEETING TO ARRANGE LATIN TOURNAMENT

A general committee for making arrangements for holding the second High School Latin tournament, the event to be held in Lexington, held a meeting in Paris, Saturday afternoon. This committee is composed of Miss Elizabeth Roff, of the Paris High School ex-officio member as president of the Classical Association; Prof. E. M. Costello, Private School for Boys, North Middletown; Miss Mabel Pollitt, of the University of Kentucky; Miss Virginia Lewis, Shelbyville High School; E. P. Boyd, Superintendent of the Lancaster schools. A letter describing conditions of the tournament and defining the scope of the examinations was prepared for distribution to the various High Schools this week.

The first tournament was held in Paris last year at the invitation of Miss Roff, teacher of Latin in the Paris High School and president of the State Classical Association. Invitations for that occasion were sent to every High School in the State inviting them to send four or fewer representatives to compete in first, second, third and fourth year Latin. After the examination was over the papers were examined and graded by the Latin Department of the Walnut Hills High School in Cincinnati, and gold medals awarded the winners in the respective examinations.

The second annual tournament will be held in Lexington on May 14. It is expected there will be a large attendance, as the various schools are already beginning to manifest a great deal of interest in the event. Miss Mabel Pollitt, active head of the Department of Ancient Languages of the University of Kentucky, has been named as chairman of arrangements for this tournament.

CALL ISSUED FOR STATE BANK REPORTS

A statement of the condition of State banks and trust companies as of March 3, was called for Saturday by State Banking Commissioner Jas. P. Lewis.

Commissioner Lewis approved the articles of incorporation of the Citizens' Union Bank, of Central City. The bank has a capital stock of $30,000. Edgar Nicholls is president.

FORMER PARISIAN AFFECTED BY COURT DECISION

The Appellate Court reversed in part and affirmed in part the case of James T. Clay, etc., against Irma T. Thomas, etc., appealed from the Clark Circuit Court. This case came to the Court of Appeals, it being claimed by a number of the litigants that the Clark Circuit Court failed to carry out the mandate in the case of Ireland against Thomas and others.

James M. Thomas, wealthy Paris lumber and capitalist, left a large estate in 1905 to his sons, W. R. and R. L. Thomas, and his daughters, Mrs. T. E. Moore, Jr., and Mrs. Mary Thomas Ireland. Much of the estate consisted of lands in Jackson and Rockcastle counties. The two sons and Thomas E. Moore, Jr., were made trustees of the estate. A few years later the property was purchased by W. R. and R. L. Thomas, the sons, for $190,000, $47,500 going to each of the heirs.

The property was sold in two years for $400,000 and Mrs. Ireland brought suit, claiming that the estate had been held in trust and the court decided in her favor, directing a proper distribution of the profits. Some of the property had depreciated in value and some had increased in value and the suit decided was in the nature of proper allowances for these increases and decreases.

TO THE CITIZENS OF BOURBON COUNTY.

Careful examination of the accounts and records kept by our brother, J. O. Marshall, as Deputy Sheriff of Bourbon county, has convinced us that the alleged shortage, if any, in his accounts, is due primarily to loose and irregular book-keeping running through a period of years.

A complete audit of his ACCOUNTS WILL BE MADE BY A PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT, and we have agreed TO PAY ANY SUM THAT SUCH AUDIT MAY SHOW that our brother has received TO WHICH HE WAS NOT LAWFULLY ENTITLED.

PARIS POSTOFFICE LOOT FOUND IN LOUISVILLE

Finding of Mail Sack Gives New Twist To Paris Postoffice Robbery.

The discovery in Louisville, Saturday night, of a mail sack containing various articles stolen from the Paris postoffice Thursday morning by yeggmen who blew the safe with dynamite and escaped with a large amount of valuable booty gave a new twist to the affair. The Louisville Herald Sunday carries the following story:

"That yeggmen who blew open the vaults of the Paris postoffice last Thursday night came to Louisville with their loot, estimated at between $9,000 and $25,000 and divided it here was indicated by a discarded mail sack and contents found Friday night in a vacant lot behind some ash barrels adjoining the negro Calvary Baptist Church, on Fifth street, near York.

"Two-cent 'postage-due' stamps and a bundle of private papers belonging to Wm. Cooper, assistant postmaster of Paris, were among the papers recovered. The exact value is not yet known.

"The sack was found by William Prather, janitor of the church, when he came to prepare the building for the morning's services. He at once notified the police. Patrolman Ellis H. Thornsberry and Louis Dierkin, of the Sixth District, brought the sack in and turned it over to the postal authorities. Chas. S. Raidy, superintendent of mails, and W. E. Greenaway, postoffice inspector, at once checked over the contents.

"In addition to the postage due stamps which were useless to the robbers, the sack was stuffed with the torn off margins of thousands of dollars worth of postage stamps, indicating that the robbers were professionals and probably specialists at robbing postoffices, according to Mr. Greenaway. The margins of all stamps are numbered and if accidentally left on when stamping letters, might enable inspectors to trace the movements of the robbers, he said. The only valuable papers found were those belonging to Mr. Cooper, consisting of certificates for oil and various other stocks.

"A number of torn and empty envelopes, some registered, were also in the sack or dropped near the place it was found. Some of them were addressed to financial institutions.

"One of the envelopes was registered letter No. 1737, which had been opened and left on the ground by the robbers. It was addressed to S. E. Bedford, president of the Peoples Deposit Bank at Paris, Ky. The envelope had contained a check for $6,000 sent the bank by Ira D. Thompson, president of the Thompson-Humble Lumber Co., of Somerset, Ky. Mr. Bedford said. As soon as the news of the postoffice robbery reached Somerset, he said, Mr. Thompson stopped payment on the check, and, of course, suffered no loss.

"While Louisville detectives and federal authorities took up a search here for the bandits, it was believed that they had long since left the city, probably for some Northern city. No other pouch from the Paris office has been found at any point. Hope was held that the private papers found might prove of considerable value, thus returning a part of the loss to the losers.

"Much of the property taken, it is understood, belonged to Walter Payne, postmaster; Assistant Cooper and William Clark, clerk.

"An inspector working out of the Cincinnati office under which all Kentucky postoffice inspectors are assigned is in charge of the case, Mr. Greenaway said, his own connection with it being merely the local end which developed last night.

"Before the sack was found Mr. Greenaway was notified from Lexington that the robbers might be headed toward Louisville, as an abandoned automobile found in the Bluegrass city contained evidence that it had been used by at least two men involved in the robbery.

"Various theories were advanced as to the manner in which the post-office bandits made their getaway from Louisville after dividing the spoils. The sack containing their loot, now in possession of the post-office inspector here, was an ordinary canvas sack, evidently snatched up at random, into which the men stuffed war savings stamps, packages of registered mail, money, stamps and other valuables, after they dynamited two large safes and two small ones in the Paris office. Mr. Greenaway said.

Inspector Beck, of Lexington, who has had charge of the investigation of the theft, has completed his work. Mr. Beck states that the actual loss has been tabulated and is much lower than as first reported. 'The yeggmen,' he stated, 'obtained about $100 in money and less than $10,000 in stamps. The funds of the Paris postoffice are deposited each day in a local bank. Had this not been the case the cracksmen would in all probability have obtained considerable money.' Just what information has been actually uncovered is

CHAMP CLARK FIGURED IN LOCAL HISTORY

But for an accident of circumstances Champ Clark, noted Democratic statesman and Congressional leader, might have been a resident of Paris instead of gracing the halls of Congress in Washington.

At one period in the early life of Champ Clark, who was born James Beauchamp Clark, in Lawrenceburg, Ky., seventy-one years ago, he was elected as superintendent of the public schools of Paris. Clark was expelled from the State College for an alleged infraction of the regulations, and began teaching in one of the county schools of the State. He afterward entered Bethany College, as a student, where he graduated with honors. He then decided to study law.

Clark went to Cincinnati to arrange for entrance as a student in the Cincinnati Law School. On his way home he became acquainted with a Paris man, who suggested that he stop in Paris and apply for the position of superintendent of the Paris schools. This he did, and following his application was elected to that position. Upon returning to his home in Lawrenceburg he found awaiting him a letter tendering the appointment as president of Marshall College, in Marshall, Mo., which he accepted. Thus Paris lost as a resident a man who afterward became one of the Nation's foremost statesmen.

A TRIBUTE

Father W. J. O'Hara, who comes from Nicholasville to Paris to succeed Rev. Father Thomas Coleman as pastor of the Church of the Annunciation, is paid the following handsome tribute by Postmaster J. B. Sears, of Nicholasville. Col. Sears signs his communication: 'His Protestant Friend.'

"Rev. W. J. O'Hara, who has been pastor of St. Luke's church here for six years, has been transferred to Paris. The announcement came as a great surprise not only to his church, but to the entire community. Father O'Hara is a most lovable man and has won a place in the hearts of Protestants as well as Catholics. We shall miss his kindly greetings and the people of Paris are to be congratulated in having such a strong character added to their population."

WARD GETS SIX YEARS FOR MURDER.

A jury at Covington convicted Mike Ward, formerly of Paris, of voluntary manslaughter, and fixed his punishment at six years in the penitentiary. Ward was indicted on a charge of wilful murder for having killed Thomas Mahoney, sixty-five years old, of Ironton, Ohio, in Jos. Jansen's near-beer saloon, at Pike and Russell streets, Covington, on October 27, 1920.

Ward was a native of Paris, where his parents resided before the family moved to Covington.

THE TOBACCO MARKETS

The quality of the offering on the Paris market Friday was very much improved over that of Thursday, and the market showed a decided improvement over that of the previous week. The Bourbon County Warehouse Company completed the block sale of the day previous selling on their floors a total of 88,025 pounds for $14,124.34, an average of $16.04.

Receipts during the past week have not been to large as in previous weeks, and many growers predict the market will not last many weeks longer. Most of the tobacco now being brought in is of an inferior quality. Warehouse men expressed the opinion last week that the low grade stuff was bringing fairly good prices, saying that it was bringing every cent it was worth. Most of those familiar with market conditions predict that the prices would remain fairly steady from now until the market closes.

Through all the week the tobacco brought in has been of more and more of low quality, until now practically all of the best weed has been sold. The warehousemen consider that the decrease in the average has been more than offset by the decrease in the quality of the offerings, and that the market last week was as strong as the circumstances would warrant.

MARCH COURT DAY

The coming of March court day was greeted yesterday by the presence in the city of a large crowd of farmers and traders, who made many exchanges in the livestock line. Business was good along "stock row," and there was a larger number of mules, horses and cattle on the market than for several months past. Mules and horses seemed to be in demand, owing to the changing of homes and locations by tenants, and a large number changed hands at what was termed by the knowing ones very fair prices. Movers were busy transferring their household goods to new homes.

Candidates were as thick as the proverbial leaves in Alhambra, and the unwary citizen was made the target of many button-hole campaigns in their interest. Tobacco and politics formed the principal themes of conversation among the farmers. Merchants report a good trade and collections fairly good, though not up to the mark of the corresponding month in the past year. The weather was ideal, being warm and sunny, the mercury in thermometers ranging as high as seventy-five.

TOUGH ON THE CHURCH

A prominent Paris woman vouches for the truth of the following incident, which came to her knowledge very recently:

A pupil in the Paris High School, in one of the lower grades, was asked by her teacher to give a definition of the word, "hypocrite." After some time spent in reflection the child replied: "A person who goes to church all the time is called a hypocrite." The teacher reported to the child's mother, who took the little one to task for giving such a definition and was astonished when the child said: "Why mother, that's what I heard you say just the other day."

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS

A BIG PORKER

Jacob Keller, of the Ruddicks Mills precinct, sold and delivered recently to the Margolen Meat Market of Paris, a two-year-old registered Poland China hog that weighed 365 pounds. It is claimed this is the largest porker ever sold in the county, if not in the State.

EDITORIAL FLINGS OF THIS, THAT 'EN 'TOTHER

When the raisin mash is stewing
And the worm is on the still There's a pile of gravel waiting
In the graveyard in the hill.

The cow is quite a modest beast,
As mild as the dewy morn,
And though she feeds a million kids,
She never toots her horn.

The price of house paint has slumped and to the man in the street the rich scarlet-to-maroon cheekbones upon a background of white show that paint for outdoor wear is selling at a bargain.

Be proud that your income tax aids in defraying the cost of the Government, but don't imagine that you are keeping the whole machine going just because you pay enough in one year to keep the cuspidor cleaned for two weeks.

To our mind there is no sadder sight in the world than that of an old-timer who has served for many years in the ranks of booze-fighters, taking a soft drink at a near-beer stand, and recalling the "good old times that used to be."

According to an announcement in a Kentucky paper you can tell what kind of a life a woman leads by looking at her feet. However, it is still true that you can get the same information about a woman by listening to her friends.

Along with the road hogs and reckless speeders and other motorist undesirable is classed the "mud slinger."
Persons waiting for street cars or walking along a sidewalk are often splashed by the wheels of a car whose driver seems to delight in hitting all mud puddles along the route. It's a small thing to watch! Don't be a mud slinger!

We wonder if any of the present crop of candidates recall how one of our citizens voted many years ago?
When this man went into a voting booth to vote in a primary, he marked a cross opposite the name of each man, making a note on the bottom of his ballot as follows: "I promised all of them, and have fulfilled my promises."

Forms of speech change rapidly, and as they change, reveal the passing story of the day. One of those which is pretty soon going to be no more than a happy memory, something to put by the side of, shall we say, "It's only the shank of the evening, let's have another," or "Fill 'em up, boys, the drinks are on me," is
"I've only a nickel that won't buy anything but a paper."

Paris boasts a musically-inclined dog. This animal is owned by William Lytle, a member of THE NEWS' carrier force. When Billie, who is a member of the Y. M. C. A. Boys' Band, begins to practice the chromatic scale on his saxophone doggie takes a position at his side, and grows out an accompaniment, running the scale first to last in true musical style and never missing a note. Billie expects to put the dog in training and make him a member of the band.

What is an Atheist?

Gladstone's definition of the term was "By atheist, I understand a man who not only holds off, like the skeptic, from the affirmative, but who drives himself, or is driven, to the negative assertion in regard to the whole unseen or to the existence of God."

INGROWN TOE NAIL TURNS OUT ITSELF

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail naturally turns outward almost overnight.

"Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists.
However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions. (adv)

WARREN G. HARDING INAUGURATED AS PRESIDENT.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Warren Gamaliel Harding was inaugurated President of the United States today, with ceremonies as simple as those that marked the induction into office of George Washington, more than a century ago.

Only a cavalry escort of four troops accompanied the President in his ride from his hotel to the Capitol and thence to the White House, the little cavalcade contrasting strangely with the gigantic military and civil processions which have attended inaugurations for half a century or more.

Besides the cavalry escort, the Congressional committee in charge of the inaugural ceremonies stationed several companies of Marines, in their spectacular full dress uniforms, at the Capitol as a guard of honor, and it stationed the brilliantly attired Marine band—the "President's Own,"—back of the inaugural stand, where they played "The Star Spangled Banner" immediately after Mr. Harding had taken the oath of office.

The very simplicity of the ceremonies on the East portico of the Capitol added to their impressiveness. Simple and impressive to the last degree also were those in the Senate chamber, where Calvin Coolidge was sworn in by Vice-President Marshall, and where Mr. Coolidge in turn swore into office the new senators elected last November.

The day's ceremonies began with formal calls on the President-elect and Vice-President-elect at the New Willard Hotel by the Congressional committee, headed by Senator Knox of Pennsylvania. Leaving the hotel, the Presidential party proceeded to the White House, where President Wilson entered the automobile occupied by the President-elect, Mrs. Wilson joined Mrs. Harding in another automobile and the trip to the Capitol then was started. Vice-President Marshall and Vice-President-elect Coolidge occupied the third automobile in the procession, while Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Coolidge rode in another car with some members of the Congressional committee. Other members of the committee rode with President and President-elect and with Mr. Marshall and Mr. Coolidge.

Pennsylvania avenue from the White House to the Capitol, was crowded with home folks and visitors anxious for a glimpse of the new and retiring Presidents. There were no reviewing stands and most of the spectators were forced to stand along the sidewalks. The more fortunate had seats in windows facing the avenue. At the Capitol the east plaza, with its standing room for thousands, was packed, and the crowd overflowed out over the park spaces and avenues which converge there. Most of these thousands were able to hear the inaugural address, as Mr. Harding's voice was carried far out by means of a sound amplifying device installed over the platform.

EX-SERVICE MEN AND FEDERAL BOARD COOPERATING TO LIBERALIZE VOCATIONAL ACT.

A bill has been proposed by the Federal Board for Vocational Education for the purpose of liberalizing the present Act and extending its benefits. This bill has already passed the Senate. The proposed Act provides the following:

1. Vocational Training for American citizens serving in Allied Forces. 2. Vocational Training for ten per cent disability or over. 3. Vocational Training for widow or orphan of persons who have died as a result of injury or disability connected with service in our armed forces. 4. Medical service and treatment for trainees. 5. Base pay of $100,000 per month to all trainees. 6. Limitation of eighteen months in which to apply for training after passage of proposed act.

This Bill, if passed, and there is reason to believe that it will be, will greatly extend the benefits of the Act.

It will enable a great many men who are entitled to training without an allowance to receive maintenance pay while in training.

An especially good feature of the Bill is the proposed grant of training to the widow or orphan of persons who have died as a result of injury or disability connected with service in the U. S. Forces.

The American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars have been especially active in attempting to secure the passage of this Bill.

VERIFY IT

The Proof Is In Paris, Almost At Your Door.

The public statement of a Paris citizen is in itself strong proof for Paris people, but confirmation strengthens the evidence.

Here is a Paris citizen who testified years ago that Doan's Kidney Pills relieved weak kidneys and now states the result was permanent. Can any sufferer from kidney ills ask better proof? You can investigate. The case is right at home.

Mrs. A. L. Burley, 329 Eighth street, Paris, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills a few times and from the benefit obtained I can say they are a good and reliable remedy. Whenever my kidneys have acted irregularly or my back had been weak and lame I have always found a box or so of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I get at Ardery's Drug Store, to relieve the complaint quickly."

The above statement was given November 10, 1916, and on November 12, 1920, Mrs. Burley said: "I haven't changed my opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills and recommend them just as highly to-day as when I gave my statement in 1916. The cure Doan's Pills made for me at that time has been permanent."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Burley had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mrs., Buffalo, N. Y. (adv)

WILSON SAYS GLAD HE IS "OUT"

One hundred books of stenographic notes dictated by President Wilson were taken to Chicago by Charles Swen, the President's private stenographer for the last nine years. The books contain nearly 10,000,000 words. This material will be used by Mr. Swen in writing a book.

Mr. Swen has known the President more intimately than any other of the official family in Washington. He returned to Chicago with his wife and young son to resume his position with the Gregg Publishing Company.

"Mr. Wilson has become boyish in the last few days," said Mr. Swen. "He's glad it's over. In two administrations the President has grown twenty-five years older."

LUCKY STRIKE CIGARETTE

"WILD FIRE" TRACED BACK TO PLANT BEDS

Declaring that practically all epidemics of "wild fire" and angular leaf spots, commonly known as "rust" and "black fire" in the 1920 tobacco crop, could be traced back to the plant beds, Dr. W. D. Valleau, plant pathologist at the State College of Agriculture, Lexington, has issued warning to Kentucky farmers to treat their 1921 seed and take other precautions to control the disease during the coming season.

According to Dr. Valleau, both diseases are caused by bacteria and are carried through the winter on the seed. "Probably much of the seed saved this past season is infected, but the prevalence of the disease during the coming year will depend largely on whether conditions during the seed-bed season, since the infections are favorably by a rainy season," said the specialist.

Recommendations for the treating of seeds, seed beds and the tobacco fields are being sent out from State College by the plant pathologist.

BIG EGG YIELD

"From a small flock of hens I now get 20 to 25 eggs per day, whereas before giving them Dr. LeGear's Poultry Prescription, I only received three or four. Its cost has been repaid to me over and over." So writes Mrs. J. W. Montgomery, Tunnell Hill, Ga.

You should increase your yield now, while prices are high, through Dr. LeGear's Poultry Prescription. It is a tonic which builds up the hen's strength and vitality, and stimulates the egg-producing organs.

For 28 years Dr. LeGear has been recognized as America's foremost Expert Poultry Breeder and Veterinarian. Any time your poultry or stock are ailing, it will pay you to get the proper Dr. LeGear's Remedy from your dealer. It must give satisfaction, or your dealer will refund your money. (adv)

Property loss of about $32,000 resulted in Georgetown from a fire which late Saturday night destroyed the old Burley Tobacco Growers' Association Warehouse, the residence of Ed Cunningham and damaged the residence of Richard Fitzgerald and J. N. Nunnally.

The warehouse building originally cost $25,000. In the building were 45,000 pounds of tobacco. Insurance to the extent of $5,000 was carried on the building and the tobacco was insured for $5,800. Mr. Cunningham's residence was valued, with the furniture, at $6,000, on which he had only $1,200 insurance. Mr. Fitzgerald's residence was damaged to the extent of about $170 and Mr. Nunnally's place about $250. Mr. Nunnally's loss is covered by insurance.

AN OLD RELIC.

Miss Anna Hutchcraft, of Paris, has among the many relics of old times in Bourbon county, a curiosity in the shape of old-fashioned cake of lye soap. The soap was made in 1832 by her grandmother, Mrs. Eliza Hutchcraft, who resided on the old home place near Stony Point. The cake of soap is now 89 years old. Except that it has acquired an almost flint like hardness due to long being wrpped up, the soap looks like any ordinary article of the kind--but it can't be used. In the old days nearly every householder made her own soap from home furnished ingredients, and soap making became quite an art.

PRESBYTERIAN PROGRESSIVE PROGRAM

Rev. T. S. Smylie, manager of the Progressive Program of the Presbyterian Church for the Ebenezer Presbytery, spent last Thursday in Mayslick, holding a conference in the interest of the program for the Mayslick and Washington churches. "The program is progressing exceptionally, much interest being shown at the various conferences being held. The manager is publishing a paper called P-E-P (The Progressive Ebenezer Presbyterian) in the interest of the campaign. The first issue is being mailed to something like eight or nine hundred Presbyterian homes in this end of the State.

A COINCIDENCE

In the Pathe News pictures to be shown this afternoon and to-night at the Alamo and Grand Opera House, there is a picture of a virile patriarch named John B. Northcott, aged ninety years. Mr. Northcott goes through a series of athletic stunts, such as skipping the rope, to bolster up his assertion that exercise will keep anyone young. It is quite a coincidence that a Paris citizen, John B. Northcott, should have celebrated just a day or two ago his ninetieth birthday. The local Mr. Northcott is still vigorous and gives his attention daily to his real estate business. Mr. Northcott recently attended a banquet given by the local lodge of Masons, remaining until the dancing began, when he left with the remark: "I know I can't get into that game."

A VEGETABLE CURIOSITY

J. Will Thomas, local tobacco handler, brought to this office a remarkable freak of nature in the shape of a leaf of tobacco, or two leaves together, grown together on the order of the Siamese twins. The leaves had started from a single stalk, then become united near the middle by what appeared to be a third leaf. Another leaf, starting from the rear of the other three, had grown into the texture of the stalk, making a curious combination. The freak was taken from a stalk of tobacco grown on the farm of Henry S. Caywood, near North Middletown. A freak stalk of tobacco, raised on the farm of Fay Ardery, near Paris, is on display in the lobby of the Peoples Deposit Bank. The stalk has two perfectly formed leaves, joined together in the shape of a heart. Each leaf has a separate stem and fibre. The exhibit attracts a great deal of attention.

Origin of Manitoba.
The name Manitoba sprang from the union of two Indian words, Manito (the Great Spirit), and Waba (the "narrows" of the lake). This strait was a sacred place to the Crees and Ojibwas, who called them "Manito-Waba," or the "Great Spirit's Narrows."

YOU certainly want to save money, and you would like to have better bakings. Then use Calumet. It's the biggest thing you can do to improve the quality of your bakings—and lower baking costs. Calumet is made in the largest, most sanitary Baking Powder Factories in the World. No Baking Powder is made under better conditions—none can be better in quality. It contains only such ingredients as have been officially endorsed by the U. S. Pure Food Authorities. An absolute guarantee that it is pure.

RAISES THE QUALITY — LOWERS THE COST OF ALL BAKINGS

It received highest Awards, World's Pure Food Exposition, Chicago — Paris Exposition, Paris, France—positive proof of its superior merit. It is used by more housewives and domestic scientists than any other brand. It is sold at a moderate price. All you have to do is to compare costs to determine how much you can save by buying Calumet. Gluten is the muscle building part of flour which is of great importance. To be sure you get it in your bakings use plain flour and good baking powder, (not self-rising flour).

Calumet Cream Cake Recipe

KNOWS WHERE TO GO FOR HELP NOW

Another Nashville Woman Benefited By Tanlac Three Years Ago

"Tanlac relieved me of my troubles and put me in splendid condition three years ago, and I know just where to go when I need something to build me up," said Mrs. Louise E. Sneed, 1219 Fifth avenue, North, Nashville, Tenn., while purchasing a bottle of Tanlac the other day at DeMott's - Page - Smith Company's drug store. "I suffered for years from stomach trouble and about three years ago I got into an awful condition. I couldn't eat a thing but what caused me to suffer agonies, my nerves were all upset, I couldn't sleep and I suffered a great deal from rheumatism. I had a dull, heavy, languid feeling all the time, with no strength or energy, and at times sufferings were almost unbearable. "That was my condition when I got Tanlac, and I declare the medicine just made the most wonderful change in me. My stomach stopped bothering me, I began to sleep as sound as a baby, all my aches and pains left me and I was built up in every way until I felt fine all the time and I'm feeling that way yet. My faith has been pinned to Tanlac ever since that time. I am getting this bottle now to tone me up in the change of seasons when spring comes on." Tanlac is sold in Paris at the People's Pharmacy. Historic Tablets.

A group of tablets from excavations of Babylon was recently secured by Stanford university. Several of the pieces carry the distinct prints of the fingers which moulded them over 4,000 years ago, one bearing the name of Darius, King of Babylon.

SWEAR OFF TOBACCO

"No-To-Bac" has helped thousands to break the costly, nerve-shattering tobacco habit. Whenever you have a longing for a cigarette, cigar, pipe, or for a chew, just place a harmless No-To-Bac tablet in your mouth instead, to help relieve that awful desire. Shortly the habit may be completely broken, and you are better off mentally, physically, financially. It's so easy, so simple. Get a box of No-To-Bac and if it doesn't release you from all craving for tobacco in any form, your druggist will refund your money without question.

Central High School in Houston, Texas, is offering courses free for expert instruction in auto mechanics. The legal requirement is that students be at least 14 years of age.

BOURBON FARMING CONDITIONS.

Activities among the farmers of the county during the past week has been confined to the stripping of tobacco and hauling the weed to the local tobacco market. There is scarcely any other kind of work going on on the farms these days. The weather has not been such as to promote or encourage outdoor work.

A few plant beds have been made ready for the approaching season but it is thought by most of the farmers that the plant bed business is booked for a slow season. A little plowing has been done in spots, but in most places the land has not been in condition for that work.

Tobacco markets are going up and down in irregular fluctuations. The farmers are making the best of the situation, and looking and hoping for better things.

All kinds of farm produce is so low that the farmers declare they will have a hard time making anything at all. Corn is down to a very low level, and there is a strong probability that this year's crop will be the largest ever raised, so that farmers are hesitating about planting it.

As spring approaches the early gardener begins to think of hot beds and plowing his garden. Eggs are being brought to the Paris market in large quantities, and the price is considerably reduced from that of last week. Farmers report the recent heavy snow as being good for the young wheat and small grains, which are looking well.

ASPIRIN

Name "Bayer" on Genuine

It's criminal to take a chance on any substitute for "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin." Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for twenty-one years and proved safe by millions. Take Aspirin only as told in the Bayer package for Colds, Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Earache, Toothache, Lumbago and for Pain.

Handy tin boxes of twelve tablets cost only a few cents. Druggists also sell larger packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylic acid. (adv)

KENTUCKIAN'S LAST WORDS MAY SAVE PAL

It was learned at Sing Sing prison that in a secret statement made on the night of February 10 by Jesse Walker, a Henderson, Ky., youth, just before his execution, he cleared Guy Nichols, under sentence to be executed, of having taken part in the killing of Samuel Wolchak, in Brooklyn.

Walker and Nichols, along with a third defendant, were indicted for the Brooklyn stationer's death. Walker's statement was kept secret by Warden Lawes and forwarded to Gov. Miller. It now develops that Walker stated that neither Nichols nor himself did any shooting, but a third man did the deed.

Supreme Court Justice Mannings, who sentenced Nichols, has written the Governor a letter favoring life imprisonment, and the jurors who convicted him have petitioned the Governor to commute the death sentence. The body of Walker was sent to Kentucky and buried in the Henderson cemetery beside the grave of his father, a Baptist minister.

WILSON AND COLBY FORM LAW PARTNERSHIP

President Wilson and Secretary of State Bainbridge Colby will form a partnership and begin the practice of law in Washington.

Formal announcement to this effect was made at the White House. It came as a great surprise to even the closest friends of the President and Mr. Colby. The firm will have offices in New York and Washington, with Mr. Colby in New York.

Secretary Joseph P. Tumulty, who will begin the practice of law shortly, said that the announcement spoke for itself.

It was the belief there that the President and Mr. Colby would make a specialty of cases in which international law and relations would play a large part.

The field for the practice of international law has been widened by recent world developments. Among those active in such practice are former Secretary of State Robert Lansing and former Under Secretary of State Frank L. Polk.

CHAMP CLARK, DEMOCRATIC LEADER IN CONGRESS, IS DEAD

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Death closed Wednesday the career of Champ Clark, of Missouri, for more than a quarter century a towering figure in National politics, a stalwart of stalwarts in the Democratic party.

He died in the very shadow of the Capitol, just over the way from the hotel where he has lived many years, House and Senate seethed in the closing hours of the Congress, of which he was an honored member and leader.

The stir of legislative battle was with him to the end. He lived again in memory as his pulses flagged days of the eight years he wielded the Speaker's gavel in the House. Those sorrowing at his bedside heard the old Chieflain mutter in his last delirium:

"The question is on adoption of the conference report."

By mandate more binding than any written law, Congress barely halted in reference to mark the passing of the aged member. Knowing, as the years had taught him to know, the vital urgency of time in the closing days of a Congress, the former Speaker made known his will from what he knew was his deathbed. His wish was carried to both Houses that no halt in public business should be made at his death.

In obedience to that behest, the House, peopled with his personal friends of whatever party, halted a short half hour in adjournment, then marched on with its crowded program.

In that pressing work Mr. Clark took active share up to a little more than ten days ago, counseling his party colleagues as Democratic leader until a cold struck him down to become a victim of the infirmities of his seventy years of driving life that reckoned nothing of his own physical welfare.

His death threw a shadow over every face in the chamber. When Representative Rucker of the Missouri delegation arose to announce it, his voice choked with emotion. It was a halting, brief eulogy he pronounced, but it drew from members signs of sorrow more eloquent than words to tell of the place the dead leader held in their affection and respect. The formal motion for a half hour adjournment was made by Representative Mondell, Republican leader.

Mr. Clark would have been 71 years old had he lived until next Monday, but his twenty-six years of service in the House would have ended on Friday, for he was defeated for re-election.

In the subdued talk on floor or in cloakrooms, while the House paused in honor of his memory, friends of years' standing scorned the suggestion that the stout heart of the Missourian had been shaken by political defeat. That he had foreseen long in advance, they said. The death a year ago of his idolized three-year-old grandson and namesake, Champ Clark Thompson.

Since that blow it was said Mr. Clark's colleagues had noted a waning of his keen interest in public affairs and a little droop to the massive shoulders so familiar through the years in the corridors of the Capitol. There was one thing upon which all were agreed—that Mr. Clark had died as he wished to die, in the harness of his life work.

He had planned retirement to his home in Bowling Green, Mo., after March 4, but the end found him still serving his country and his State in the House. That made it possible for the House to vote his widow a year of her husband's salary as its first business when the memorial adjournment was over.

Dr. Jesse Shoup, Mr. Clark's physician had little hope from the day his patient was taken down with a cold. Pleurisy developed quickly, but behind that there was an accumulation of ailments, due largely to advanced age and the reckless energy Mr. Clark had thrown into his work. To development of these the cold opened an easy door. It was only a question of a little time, Dr. Shoup knew, despite the courageous fight his patient was making, and besides Mrs. Clark, the former Speaker's son, Bennett, and his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Thompson, of New Orleans, were at his bedside through all his last hours.

In the Senate word of Mr. Clark's death was given by Senator Harrison of Mississippi. He spoke feelingly of the service the veteran Democratic leader had rendered his party and the nation, but Mr. Clark's wishes that no halt in the business of Congress should be made in his honor prevailed, and the Senate kept on at its work.

In the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1912, Champ Clark led on twenty-seven ballots for the nomination as candidate for President, and had a clear majority on nine ballots prior to the final naming of Woodrow Wilson. The two-thirds rule of the convention alone prevented Mr. Clark's nomination. The honor which his party thus paid him was the most notable of his public life. In American political history Martin Van Buren was the only other man who failed of the Democratic nomination for the Presidency after having received a majority of the votes in the national convention, but he enjoyed the unique distinction of being elected subsequently.

William J. Bryan's sensational attack on Mr. Clark at Baltimore, charging him with being affiliated with leaders representing "the interests," held the convention in deadlock for more than a week, when it ended in the nomination of Wilson. Bryan's speech, declaring that Thomas F. Ryan, August Belmont and Charles F. Murphy were supporting Clark, was a bolt from the blue which made the Clark ranks waver. Clark supporters declared afterward that none of the three leaders mentioned was for Clark as first choice, but that the rule carried the New York delegation to the Clark forces.

The breach between Bryan and Clark never healed, although they met at a luncheon arranged by mutual friends a few months later and exchanged perfunctory speeches. Coolness between Clark and Wilson wore off after the President entered the White House, and on legislative policies they worked in harmony, except in one notable instance—the repeal of the Panama tools exemption, which Speaker Clark opposed unsuccessfully.

The failure of his candidacy at Baltimore never ceased to be the disappointment of Mr. Clark's life. He refused the nomination as Vice President, and told the House on the eve of his defeat that he preferred to remain as Speaker.

His election to the Speakership of the House came in the Sixty-second Congress, prior to the Baltimore convention, and it was by a united Democracy in recognition of the contest Mr. Clark had made against the rule of Speaker Joseph Cannon. Mr. Clark had served in every Congress since, and including the Fifty-third in 1893, except the Fifty-fourth, when he was beaten.

Although Champ Clark was known as a Missourian, he was born in Anderson, Ky., on March 7, 1850. He was christened James Beauchamp Clark, but early in life he reduced this to Champ Clark. His first work was as a farm hand, clerk in a general store, and on a country newspaper.

He was educated at Kentucky University and Bethany College and the Cincinnati Law School. For a short time he was President of Marshall College, and, at 22, held the record of being the youngest college President in the United States. In 1875 he moved to Missouri, where he took up the study and practice of law, and became Prosecuting Attorney in Pike county. His next step was into the Missouri Legislature, where he framed the Missouri primary law, an anti-trust statute and an Australian ballot law. He was Permanent Chairman of the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1904 and headed the committee that notified Alton B. Parker of his Presidential nomination.

Sent To House In 1893.

He was first sent to the national forum in 1893. Although then regarded as "green," his strength in the House developed rapidly. When John Sharp Williams left the House for the Senate, Representative Clark was made minority leader by virtue of his seniority on the Ways and Means Committee, which drafted the Payne-Aldrich tariff act. His service on that committee in trying to keep duties down won him the regard of the Democrats, and his speech of five hours against the bill was one of the notable addresses of that Congress.

Mr. Clark's sincerity, friendship for opponents and adherents alike, his fairness as a presiding officer and his knowledge of history, his love of clean anecdotes and humorous stories, his marvelously retentive memory ranked with his attributes of leadership. He welded the minority into a virtual Democratic unit when he was minority leader, and after the ousting of Cannon, which robbed the Speakership of many of its powers, he divided with Majority Leader Underwood the control of the Democrats in the House and they formed a great working team.

Physically he was a giant of a man, standing over six feet two inches in height and weighing a trifle more than 200 pounds.

Speaker Clark and Mrs. Champ Clark, a familiar figure in the Speaker's bench in the gallery, entertained not only at an annual New Year's house and at other functions, but gave informal weekly luncheons at the Capitol to which members and others were invited. Mrs. Thompson and Bennett Clark parliamentarians of the House at the Speaker's appointment, whom the Speaker hoped to have succeed him to his seat in Congress, comprised the rest of the immediate family.

READ THIS!

Overhauling machinery during the slack season so as to be sure to have it in first-class working order when needed, has long been recognized as good practice—it is especially so with a tractor. Nearly every tractor should have a general overhauling during the fall or winter months. This may not always be necessary after the first season's work, but it will do no harm even in this case, but after the tractor has been used two or more years an annual overhauling is almost essential to insure satisfactory operation during the busy season.

Slow Answers

Impair Service

Telephone users here make thousands of telephone calls every day.

On more than one per cent of these calls, the person called does not answer for a minute or more after the bell rings.

True a minute isn't long, but telephone service is a matter of SECONDS. We do our part in seconds.

Delayed answers by subscribers on so many of the daily calls necessarily slows down the service and hampers the operators in their efforts to improve the service.

Often the operator is blamed by the calling party when you are slow to answer.

Answering promptly when the telephone bell rings will assist greatly in maintaining good telephone service.

COMMERCIAL CLUB ACTIVITIES

A. Lyle DeJarnett, of New York, representing the Community Service Co., is spending a few days in Paris, interviewing members of the playgrounds committee of the Commercial Club in regard to the playground movement now under way here. This organization has a school in Chicago whose purpose is to train in the community service work.

One of the most important matters the Commercial Club will take up in the near future is the matter of numbering the business houses and residences of the city. The work was undertaken some years ago, at the time when free city mail delivery was first considered, and was carried well forward. But since then scores of houses have been erected, none of which have been numbered. The complete numbering of houses in the city will be a great aid to the mail service and to strangers seeking information as to locations.

The plan as outlined by Mr. DeJarnett is to form a community leisure and recreation service in whatever form the community desires. The proposition made by the organization is that they furnish a man to organize and carry on the work for a period of three months free of charge, provided the people of the community would promise to carry it on thereafter.

Mayor E. B. January and Secretary Wm. E. Hacker were in Falmouth yesterday, where they represented the Commercial Club at a good roads meeting. The meeting was held for the purpose of demanding a rerouting of the Eastern division of the Dixie Highway, so that it will include Independence, Falmouth, Berry, Cynthiana and Paris, instead of Williamstown and Georgetown, as present contemplated. Covington good roads enthusiasts are the principal backers of this movement. Delegations from all the towns along the route were present. The meeting was arranged by the Industrial Club of Falmouth. The principal speaker of the occasion was Colonel Harvey Myers, of Covington.

BASKET BALL

A whirlwind finish brought victory to the Paris Y. M. C. A. basketballers Thursday night in the game at Lexington with the Lexington Knights of Columbus team. In the final half the score read 31 to 19. Up to the middle of the last half the Lexington team held the lead, but at that juncture the Paris team came up with some puzzling plays that carried the game in their favor. The first half ended in a 12 to 11 score in favor of the Knights. The Paris team lined up as follows: Roberts and Daves, forwards; Adair, center; Thompson and Porte, guards. Turner, of the Lexington Y. M. C. A., refereed the game. Roberts starred for Paris, and McCarthy for the Knights.

In the game played on the Winchester floor between the teams of Millersburg College, and the Winchester High School, the latter came out victors by the score of 34 to 23. The playing of the Millersburg team was very good, but they were outplayed in the finale by the Winchester team. At the end of the first half the score stood 22 to 8 in favor of the Winchester team. The Millersburg team played a much better game in the last half, making the final score 34 to 23. The M. C. team lined up as follows: Howard and Bodkin, forwards; Shannon, center; Bowar and Fisher, guards.

COUNTY COURT NEWS

In the County Court yesterday Mrs. Mattie Edwards Clark, widow of the late Walter Clark, Tax Commissioner of Bourbon county, qualified as executrix of her deceased husband's estate, by furnishing bond in the sum of $5,000. Under the terms of the will no surety was required of her.

At a meeting of the Bourbon Fiscal Court held yesterday morning with a full Board of Magistrates present, and Judge George Batterson presiding, a large number of claims against the county were allowed and ordered paid. The committee appointed by the Court for the purpose of making a settlement with Sheriff Will G. McClintock, submitted a report, showing they had made a full and complete settlement with the Sheriff for the taxes and the school fund due the county for 1920.

In Georgia, there are under construction or just completed, more than 1,100 miles of good roads and twelve miles of bridges, involving a total cost of $17,512,954.

BOURBON COUNTY LEADS

The report also showed the shipment of animals from other States into Bourbon county, as follows: Horses, 94; mules, 68; cattle, 6,350; hogs, 5; sheep, 509.
